AUBURN vs. MONTGOMERY PROFESSIONALS

Tigers Show Up Well Against Leaguers.

(From Montgomery Advertiser.)

From the time that Shortstop Skinner of the Auburn team faced Jack Lee in the first inning until Left-fielder Stanley faced Roy Hale in the ninth inning the college lads never had a lookin on yesterday's ball game with the Pretzels.

A game fight was put up from start to finish, but with Jack Lee and Roy Hale pitching ball in midsummer form and the Pretzels backing them up in great shape the college boys were literally smothered.

Mike Donahue has rounded up in the Auburn team just about the fastest college baseball outfit seen in Montgomery in a long time and a prediction can be safely hazarded right here that the college aggregation that beats them out this summer has not shown yet. The trademarks of Donahue's thorough coaching was shown yesterday in the manner of their work during the entire game. They are quick and active in fielding, throw across the diamond with more speed and accuracy than has ever been seen by a college team in Montgomery and on the whole are refreshingly free of amateurishness. The only criticism that could be passed on them yesterday afternoon, and the fault was obviously flagrant, was the gullibility with which they bit at the delivery of Lee and Hale. If Donahue has tried to teach them the invaluable secret of waiting at the bat they surely have not profited by the lessons. Possibly it was nervousness, but the fact remains that yesterday Auburn batsmen would time after time swing at balls so wide of the plate that they could hardly have been reached.

Another thing ought to be drilled into Lurton who is not only a hard-working ball player, but a backstop head and shoulders above the majority of college catchers. Lurton made the mistake yesterday, however, of receiving a returned ball from the infield in such a position that any baserunner with the least show of speed could get by him and score at the plate. With a few holes filled in, Auburn has a college ball team that is just about as swift an aggregation as one cares to see, and all Montgomery will watch their future with interest, after their plucky, uphill fight yesterday.

It was the first time that Jack Lee has pitched a regular game in Montgomery this summer, and even if the college boys were somewhat weak with the stick he undoubtedly pitched in great form. Steady as a clock, not a base on balls, wild pitch or hitting a batter, he mowed the Auburn batters down with the greatest regularity. The only hit made off him during the five innings that he was in the box was by Blanton in the third inning. It was a battle between he and Weems—who is a college pitcher very much out of the ordinary—only four hits having been made off Weems up to the fifth inning while the college boy had struck out three Pretzels and not given a base on balls. Not a run had been scored by either side up to then and had Weems been able to pitch the game out the result would have been vastly different.

In the last of the fifth May went in the box for Auburn, and it was all off. May has a drop ball that would be vicious and effective if he could control it, but yesterday he was frightfully wild. In the first inning that he pitched he hit the first man up, gave three bases on balls, filled the bags twice and forced in a couple of runs. This put the team behind him up in the air and the fast, steady game that the college boys had played till then was a thing of the past.

Roy Hale equalled the performance of Lee, the only hit made off him being made by Steel, the first man up in the first inning—the sixth—that Hale pitched, while he had splendid control, not giving a base on balls and striking out five Auburn batters. Frank Shannon and Barry did the hitting for the Pretzels with a couple each, though the feature of the work of the locals that appealed most to the fans was the spirited base running. Barry stole three bases and put in a couple of the runs, Gardner stealing two bases and scoring two runs, Lee, Brouthers and O'Brien each getting a stolen base.

Henry Lynch played his first game for Montgomery and made a favorable impression, his wild throw not being costly.

Skinner led off with a line hit down towards first base, which Mullaney handled easily, Hall and Burgess striking out in rotation, Jack Lee using a sample of the delivery that made him famous last summer.

Molesworth popped up an infield fly that Skinner got under, Shannon hit safe, but Lynch struck out and Brouthers was out on a hit to Hall.

Millerick went to first in Mullaney's place in the second, O'Brien going behind the bat. Randall was out on a foul fly that O'Brien got, Lurton was out on a hit to Lee and Wright was out on a hit to Millerick.

Gardner hit a foul fly back of first base which Steel managed to get after a hard run and brilliant catch. Barry was out on a hit to Burgess and O'Brien on a hit to Hall.

Weems and Steel struck out in the third, Blanton hitting safe, but being thrown out at second, this being the first hit made off Lee.

Millerick was out on a fly to Steel, Lee struck out, Molesworth hit safe past first base, Shannon hit safe and Molesworth went to third but Shannon was forced out on Lynch's hit to Hall.

BASEBALL

Auburn vs. Wetumpka.

In a game characterized by loose playing Auburn piled up 22 runs on the team from the Fifth District Agricultural School at Wetumpka. As the summary will show the errors on both sides were numerous. The game however, was of great benefit to the team as it served to bring out points which the coach could instruct the men in regard to. The team on the whole showed that with hard practice they would by the time they went up against any of their college rivals, be able to put up a very good article of ball. Weems, May and Drake all did well in the box.

One thing already noticeable about the team is the fact that they play together. The one man game is not allowed on the field and all nine men work together to win the game and not to display their individual ability. Following is the summary of the game:

BASKET BALL

Auburn vs. Howard.

The basket ball team of 1905 played its first game with Howard College on the night of March 17th. A fairly good crowd was in attendance and the game was a most interesting one. Though the Howard team got the lead at once and maintained it during the entire game, yet the teams were very evenly matched and the Howard boys had to fight for every point made.

Howard started off with a rush and scored sixteen points in the first half to Auburn's three. In the second half Howard scored seven points to Auburn's five, thus, showing that Auburn's improved as they become more familiar with the floor. Auburn's goals were scored by Hall, Wilkinson and Alsobrook.

Auburn line up was as follows:

Forward—Boyd.
Forward—Hall.
Center—Wilkinson, Alsobrook.
Guard—Lacey.
Guard—Streit.
Referee—Frank Jones.

Auburn vs. Birmingham Y. M. C. A.

On the night following the Howard game Auburn went up against the strong Birmingham Y. M. C. A. and while they did not come forth victors, they could justly feel proud. For with but two weeks practice behind them they had played a team which had been practicing constantly for over a month the very hardest kind of a game.

Our team went into the game with the characteristic Auburn do or die spirit and gave the Y. M. C. A. all they were looking for during the entire twenty-five minutes of play.

Auburn got the lead early in the game and maintained it until the last five minutes of play. Lack of practice at throwing goals was the cause of our downfall. The final score was: Y. M. C. A., —; Auburn, —

Auburn's line-up was as follows:

Forward—Boyd.
Forward—Hall.
Center—Wilkinson.
Guard—Lacey.
Guard—Streit.

Class Championship Game.

Seniors vs. Sophomores.

The championship game was played Saturday night between the Senior and Sophomores. Although the game was not as fast as it might have been the game was on the whole a most interesting one. The Seniors were crippled by the loss of Boyd, a forward. Judging from the number of Varsity men the Sophomores had, it would seem that they had things all their way, but in the second half the Seniors prevented any scoring on the part of the Sophs. and tallied eight points themselves.

During the first half the Sophs. scored 16 points, the Seniors 5. During the second half the Seniors scored 8 points, while the Sophs. failed to score.

Kappa Sigma Fraternity Beautifully Entertained.

The members of the Kappa Sigma fraternity of the A. P. I. at Auburn, came to Opelika Saturday afternoon for the purpose of having a group picture taken for the "Glomerata."

After this duty, combined with its jolly pleasures were over the young men were beautifully entertained by Mrs. S. S. Black from 3:30 to 6:30 p. m., in compliment to her son, Mr. Jas. R. Black, who is a valued member of this fraternity.

Mrs. Black had invited about twenty young ladies to meet them, who were assembled and in a manner beautiful these lovely young ladies greeted and made happy the afternoon for the visiting gentlemen. The hostess was ably assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Miss Erin, and Mrs. George Oliver Berry, of Columbus, Ga.

Pretty souvenirs of the occasion were the little booklets containing questions for the contest game; each question was to be answered with words beginning with "pen." The cover of these booklets were hand painted with a spray of cherries and foliage and the initials K. S. F. thus the design was painted in the colors of the fraternity—red, green and white.

Miss Gertrude Chase, of Columbus, with bright wit successfully answered more questions and won the ladies' prize, a pretty box of stationery. Prof. Rutland won the gentleman's prize, a souvenir of Opelika.

The decoration of the home and the refreshments carried out the colors of the fraternity.

Those present to enjoy this afternoon of pleasure were:

Misses Gertrude Chase, of Columbus; Marion and Jennie Dickinson, Bethany Hicks, Artie Smith, Carmen Longshore, Rena Thomason, Ione at Mary Charles Barnes, Susie Dowde Mary Cowan, Alice Ingram, Ione and Derrelle Barnes, Marie and O'neil Jernigan, Ruth Wear, Ethel Ross, Maude Palmer, Fleta Abbott and Mary Frazer; Messrs. The Varsity basket ball team, while it did not win any games this season has nothing to be ashamed of, for with only two weeks practice they proved worthy opponents of teams that had practiced for months. This year if we may omit the game played several years ago, marks the debut of Auburn into the realm of basket ball, and it is to be hoped that next year she will turn out a team that will win for her the reputation in basket ball that her football and baseball teams have done in their respective lines of sport.

"Money is the lubricant of the wheels of commerce," and also of the wheels of baseball. Therefore, unless you want to see your team which has such brilliant prospects before it, get rusty, just reach down in your "jeans" and draw forth a goodly quantity of the "lucre." With such a team we will have an opportunity to settle several old scores, but we cannot do this unless we have the united, the concentrated support of each and every man in college. This applies to you not just your room or ranch mates. College athletics are dependent on the student body to a certain extent for their support and if you fail in your support of the team, then necessarily it will suffer.

The Wetumpka game was a very sorry one from the standpoint of attendance. Of the 450 boys in college not over fifty per cent. were in attendance. This is indeed a deplorable state of affairs. There are not but few men in college but could easily afford the price of a ticket. College patriotism if not your love of the game, should have been sufficient inducement to a man for him to come.

Any men in college who think that they can run, jump, hurdle, throw the hammer, put the shot or pole vault are urged to come out at once and train for the meet on May the first. Georgia will bring a strong team over and we must beat them.

Alabama puts out a very strong team this year, and unless we hustle we may have to suffer the same fate that our last year's team did at her hands. However, we must work hard and hope for the best. Anyhow, Donahue seems to be an Alabama "hoodo" and never has "dreams."

DIAMOND CHIPS.

Ye slab artist that useth ye "spit ball" shall be as a thorn in the side of ye batsman.

Be wary, O batsman, and be not deceived by the bending of the ball; follow it constantly with thine eye, let not thine optic stray from it, after it leaveth ye pitcher's hand.

He that looketh under the high ball and over the low ball, shall surely walk.

Verily, verily, I say unto you though a team field well, yea, exceedingly well, and hit the ball not, it shall avail them nothing, no games shall they win.

A man that is as a deer in fleetness on the path is of much value, for many bases shall he nilfer, many bunts shall be beat out.

An umpire that giveth both sides a square deal, is as a bright and precious jewel for such are rare and valuable.

A strong and accurate wing is much o be desired by a player.

He that findeth the ball constantly with ye biff stick, sending it into ye outer gardens, is as much fine gold in value.

The Varsity basket ball team, while it did not win any games this season, has nothing to be ashamed of, for with only two weeks practice they proved worthy opponents of teams that had practiced for months. This year if we may omit the game played several years ago, marks the debut of Auburn into the realm of basket ball, and it is to be hoped that next year she will turn out a team that will win for her the reputation in basket ball that her football and baseball teams have done in their respective lines of sport.

"Money is the lubricant of the wheels of commerce," and also of the wheels of baseball. Therefore, unless you want to see your team which has such brilliant prospects before it, get rusty, just reach down in your "jeans" and draw forth a goodly quantity of the "lucre." With such a team we will have an opportunity to settle several old scores, but we cannot do this unless we have the united, the concentrated support of each and every man in college. This applies to you not just your room or ranch mates. College athletics are dependent on the student body to a certain extent for their support and if you fail in your support of the team, then necessarily it will suffer.

The Wetumpka game was a very sorry one from the standpoint of attendance. Of the 450 boys in college not over fifty per cent. were in attendance. This is indeed a deplorable state of affairs. There are not but few men in college but could easily afford the price of a ticket. College patriotism if not your love of the game, should have been sufficient inducement to a man for him to come.

Any men in college who think that they can run, jump, hurdle, throw the hammer, put the shot or pole vault are urged to come out at once and train for the meet on May the first. Georgia will bring a strong team over and we must beat them.

Alabama puts out a very strong team this year, and unless we hustle we may have to suffer the same fate that our last year's team did at her hands. However, we must work hard and hope for the best. Anyhow, Donahue seems to be an Alabama "hoodo" and never has "dreams."

DIAMOND CHIPS.

Ye slab artist that useth ye "spit ball" shall be as a thorn in the side of ye batsman.

Be wary, O batsman, and be not deceived by the bending of the ball; follow it constantly with thine eye, let not thine optic stray from it, after it leaveth ye pitcher's hand.

He that looketh under the high ball and over the low ball, shall surely walk.

Verily, verily, I say unto you though a team field well, yea, exceedingly well, and hit the ball not, it shall avail them nothing, no games shall they win.

A man that is as a deer in fleetness on the path is of much value, for many bases shall he nilfer, many punts shall be beat out.

An umpire that giveth both sides a square deal, is as a bright and precious jewel for such are rare and valuable.

A strong and accurate wing is much to be desired by a player.

He that findeth the ball constantly with ye biff stick, sending it into ye outer gardens, is as much fine gold in value.

DUST FROM SOUTHERN COLLEGE DIAMONDS

Alabama opened her season by taking the series from the Marion Military Institute, although the institute boys put up a good game and undoubtedly caused some uneasiness in the ranks of the Crimson and White followers when they played them to a standstill in the first game, Alabama winning by one run. In the second game Marion brought the Crimson and White down to half mast in a hard fought game. In the third, however, Alabama demonstrated her superiority and clinched the series, winning by a healthy margin.

From Atlanta Constitution. Clemson's Outlook.

Clemson has turned out some exceptionally good players and good teams in the past, but this year she is likely to meet some rough weather, as she has lost many of her veterans. It appears that Maxwell, Sitton, Dendy, Weir, Ellis, Rodgers, Kinney and Caldwell are all out of the running for one reason and another, Goggans, shortstop and captain, being the only regular back. Holland, ex-Furman, is sure to be seen on second and is a good man. Ellison, who has "subbed" in the past, is doubtless able to give a good account of himself on first base by this time, and Sorentrue, sub catcher, should do satisfactory work behind the plate. McMakin is coach and as South Carolina turns out as many good ball players to the square mile as probably any other State in the Union and as Clemson gets her full quota of students, those who look for a pastry team from the Calhoun country will live to learn, though to have equally as good a team as numbers of the best she has had in the past is hardly to be looked for.

Because the University of South Carolina does not belong to the Southern Interstate Athletic Association and has men who would be ineligible under the operation of the association's rules, she has no games arranged with Southern Interstate Athletic Association teams, and being rather distantly situated from other non-conformist colleges, her schedule is rather weak, and has been for a year or two. This has resulted in a decline in baseball interest at South Carolina and a natural decline in the quality of play. It is a matter of great regret to all concerned that this college does not enter the association, as it would be better for her, and the Southern Interstate Athletic Association teams would be glad to have her on their schedules.

Newberry college always does well for a little place and promises better than ever for 1905 with Howard Holland for coach and Simpson, her best pitcher—of three years' experience—back again.

In Georgia there are but three college varsity teams and these nearly always run each other a neck and neck race. They are like the three dogs who sat in a row; two were white and so was the other. If one of these teams is strong the others are bound to be likewise; if one is weak it is almost a certainty the others will be also, at least that is the way they show up in their matches against each other, no matter what their respective playing strength against outsiders.

Mercer, Georgia and Tech. Despite the loss of Maynard, Stevall, Quarles and Stakely, Mercer appears most optimistic of the three over her approaching season, the reason being that she has had a veritable invasion of excellent new material. Captain Mundy will be seen again at first base and Crovatt, a new man, at second. For short, Mercer has back Eden Taylor, one of the best infielders and base runners that ever came out of college ranks. He is sure to make trouble for opposing teams. Connor, last year's third, is back in college, but has just been operated on for appendicitis, which is likely to throw him out of the game for this year. If so, his place will be ably filled by either Kendrick or Dwyer. Gates, Rodgers, Sellman and Awtry are all old men back, and with the addition of Blitch, Tomlinson, Middleton and Hogg there can be no weakness in the outfield. Smith, of Cedartown, is the most conspicuous candidate for catcher, while Crawford and Ingram will probably do the slab work. This team looks strong in every department, though the batteries are as yet untried. A heavy schedule of nineteen college games has been arranged by Manager A. F. Martin, which the team should be able to digest without the need of repairs after they have assimilated the coaching of Billy Smith. Mercer's prospects are undoubtedly tinged with the aurora borealis.

Barring the loss of her heavy-hitting second baseman, Anderson, Georgia has the best of her last year's nine back for the campaign of 1905. Cox and Sullivan, captain, are two formidable pitchers. Fleishmann is strong at short and Scott is reliable at first. Martin, an ex-Boys' High school player, seems to be filling Anderson's shoes satisfactorily in the line of fielding at least. Moore has been working out at third, and in the outfield they still have Hamm, Brown and others. Catcher gives Georgians some sleepless nights, as the like position did last year, but Lowndes should develop into a satisfactory man before the college games arrive. Coach Dickinson may be depended upon for both heavy and conscientious work with the team, and is a man who has won the respect and esteem not only of his own men, but of rival teams as well. No doubt the team will give a good account of its first game, with Mercer. Four games have been arranged with the Tech, the first of which occurs in Atlanta on April 8.

Losing two splendid pitchers, Poole and Butler, the heaviest hitter in southern college ranks in First Baseman Ison, Richards, a third baseman above the average, and Richardson, the best fielding and base-running second baseman in the colleges, Tech starts out with prospects none too dazzling. Day is the best of the pitchers, and may be counted on to hold his own with any opponent he will encounter this year. The same may be said of Captain Woodward behind "the bars and breastworks." Truly they are a pair to draw to. At short McMillan has visibly improved, being stronger, quicker and more confident. His batting has made the same progression. Equal improvement in all departments may be noted in the play of Gager in left field and Hamilton in center field, Myrick at first, Brown at second, Daniels at third and Cannon in right field are new faces, but are all "doing nicely." Beane will likely be used more or less on the firing line, and perhaps also Brown. The team promises, with less brilliancy than last year's, to be more steady, and they have undoubtedly better "wings." Like last year's team, they give promise of being heavy hitters, for much time and care has been spent on their work in this department. The schedule, while not as voluminous as last year's, is yet a difficult one, and will furnish good sport. The first college game will occur on April 8, when Georgia will come over to try conclusions, but time alone will tell whether the team will do as well as last year's did.

Athens, Ga., March 25.—(Special.)—With two of her best men on the bench by virtue of the protest by Mercer, Georgia sent the Baptists to the woods this afternoon on Herty field by the score of 8 to 2.

Arthur Sullivan, the famous south-paw of the Red and Black, struck out seventeen of the Mercerians, although only thirteen go on the score card by virtue of the catcher failing to hold third strike.

At the same time he let the team down with two single hits. Not a single ball was batted to first base, short stop or left field, only one to second base, three to center field, and one to right field.

The base stealing by Cox, Martin and Rogers was daring and successful. Gates for Mercer, did well, striking out ten men and allowing but seven hits, two of which were doubles. In the eighth inning Gates was hit by a pitched ball and retired from the game, Tomlinson taking his place.

Sullivan was a little wild, hitting three of the Mercer men severe licks in the head. A batted ball hit by Charlie Cox knocked the umpire down, and it looked as if he was badly hurt for a while.

In the first inning Cox stole from third to home while the pitcher was delivering the ball, at the same time the batter struck the ball and was thrown out at first, retiring the side. Umpire Foster held that Cox had reached home before the batter struck at the ball, and that the run should count.

This angered the Mercer team and they threatened to leave the field. The umpire called the time and at the expiration of the limit forfeited the game to Georgia by a score of 9 to 0. Then the crowd was wild for the game to go on. And finally it was agreed that the run should count, and should be arbitrated by the officials of the Southern Intercollegiate Association.

The official score of the game was as follows:

The schedule, while not as voluminous as last year's, is yet a difficult one, and will furnish good sport. The first college game will occur on April 8, when Georgia will come over to try conclusions, but time alone will tell whether the team will do as well as last year's did. Athens, Ga., March 25.—(Special).— With two of her best men on the bench by virtue of the protest by Mercer, Georgia sent the Baptists to the woods this afternoon on Herty field by the score of 8 to 2. Arthur Sullivan, the famous south-paw of the Red and Black, struck out seventeen of the Mercerians, although only thirteen go on the score card by virtue of the catcher failing to hold third strike. At the same time he let the team down with two single hits. Not a single ball was batted to first base, short stop or left field, only one to second base, three to center field, and one to right field. The base stealing by Cox, Martin and Rogers was daring and successful. Gates for Mercer, did well, striking out ten men and allowing but seven hits, two of which were doubles. In the eighth inning Gates was hit by a pitched ball and retired from the game, Tomlinson taking his place. Sullivan was a little wild, hitting three of the Mercer men severe licks in the head. A batted ball hit by Charlie Cox knocked the umpire down, and it looked as if he was badly hurt for a while. In the first inning Cox stole from third to home while the pitcher was delivering the ball, at the same time he batted struck the ball and was brown out at first, retiring the side. Umpire Foster held that Cox had reached home before the batter struck at the ball, and that the run should count. This angered the Mercer team and they threatened to leave the field. The umpire called the time and at the expiration of the limit forfeited the game to Georgia by a score of 9 to 0. Then the crowd was wild for the game to go on. And finally it was agreed that the run should count, and should be arbitrated by the officials of the Southern Intercollegiate Association. The official score of the game was as follows: Score by innings— Mercer 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0—2 Georgia 1 0 1 0 3 0 3 0—8 MERCER— ab. r. h. a. po. e. (Continued from 1st page.)

Skinner struck out in the fourth, Hall was safe on Brouthers's fumble, but was forced out on Burgess's hit to Lynch and Gardner got Randall's fly. Brouthers and Gardner were both out on hits to Blanton, Barry hit safe, but O'Brien struck out.

Shannon handled Lurton's fly in the fifth. Wright struck out and Weems was out on a foul to O'Brien.

In the last half Weems was succeeded in the box by May, only four hits having been made off Weems up to that time. Millerick was hit by the ball. Lee hit to first, but there was nobody to cover the bag and Millerick went on to third. Then May gave Molesworth his base on balls, filling the bases. Shannon hit towards first, Burgess returning the ball like a flash, to stop Millerick, who was steaming in from third base. The throw was all right, Burgess making the play perfectly, but Lurton dropped the ball and the big Pretzel backstop tallied the first run of the game. The bags were still full of Pretzels, however, and May gave Lynch his base on balls, forcing Lee in. Brouthers hit to Skinner, who fired the ball back to the plate to stop Molesworth. Lurton was too far from the plate, however, and Molesworth scored.

Gardner laced out a beauty to center, Shannon and Lynch scoring. Barry was out on a hit to Hall. O'Brien struck out and on Skinner's wild throw of Millerick's hit, who was up for the second time in that inning, two more runs streamed over the plate. Hale, who was hitting for Lee, was walked, Molesworth walked and there was a wild pitch. Lurton got the ball back to May in time to nail Millerick at the plate, seven runs closing the inning.

Hale succeeded Lee in the sixth inning. Blanton's hit in the third inning having been the only hit made off Lee. Steel hit safe and stole second. Blanton struck out. Skinner was out on a fly to Molesworth and Hall on a fly to Barry.

Shannon walked in the last half. Lynch was out on a hit to Hall, but Shannon sprinted round to third and scored on Brouthers's beautiful bunt towards third, May getting him out at first. Gardner hit safe to right, going to third on Skinner's fumble of Barry's hit and scoring on Hall's wild throw to Lurton. O'Brien walked, he and Barry completing a double steal which landed Barry on third, Millerick striking out.

In the seventh Burgess was safe on Lynch's wild throw of his hit, going to second on the play. Randall struck out, Lurton did the same and Wright was out on a hit to Shannon.

Stanley went to left field for Auburn in the last half of the seventh. Miller going to center and Niel to right. Hale was out on a hit to May. Molesworth on a hit to Burgess, Shannon walked and went to third on a ferocious throw of May, and Blanton got Lynch's line drive.

May was out on a hit to Hale in the eighth, Niel on a fly to Molesworth and Blanton struck out.

Brouthers drove a fierce one at Hall, but there was a false bound and the plucky little second baseman of the college outfit missed it, Gardner hit safe, Brouthers going to third on Hall's wild throw and by daring baserunning, sliding into the plate. Barry was out on a fly to Skinner, O'Brien sent a fly to May, which he and Hall waited to "talk it over," the ball falling harmlessly and Micky trotting to first, but getting caught stealing second.

Skinner started the forlorn hope of Auburn by striking out in the ninth, Hall going to third on Shannon's low throw to Millerick. Burgess was out on a hit to Hale and Barry ended the game by pulling down Stanley's fly to right.

AUBURN vs. MONTGOMERY PROFESSIONALS

Tigers Show Up Well Against Leaguers.

(From Montgomery Advertiser.)

From the time that Shortstop Skinner of the Auburn team faced Jack Lee in the first inning until Left-fielder Stanley faced Roy Hale in the ninth inning the college lads never had a lookin on yesterday's ball game with the Pretzels.

A game fight was put up from start to finish, but with Jack Lee and Roy Hale pitching ball in midsummer form and the Pretzels backing them up in great shape the college boys were literally smothered.

Mike Donahue has rounded up in the Auburn team just about the fastest college baseball outfit seen in Montgomery in a long time and a prediction can be safely hazarded right here that the college aggregation that beats them out this summer has not shown yet. The trademarks of Donahue's thorough coaching was shown yesterday in the manner of their work during the entire game. They are quick and active in fielding, throw across the diamond with more speed and accuracy than has ever been seen by a college team in Montgomery and on the whole are refreshingly free of amateurishness. The only criticism that could be passed on them yesterday afternoon, and the fault was obviously flagrant, was the gullibility with which they bit at the delivery of Lee and Hale. If Donahue has tried to teach them the invaluable secret of waiting at the bat they surely have not profited by the lessons. Possibly it was nervousness, but the fact remains that yesterday Auburn batsmen would time after time swing at balls so wide of the plate that they could hardly have been reached.

Another thing ought to be drilled into Lurton who is not only a hard-working ball player, but a backstop head and shoulders above the majority of college catchers. Lurton made the mistake yesterday, however, of receiving a returned ball from the infield in such a position that any baserunner with the least show of speed could get by him and score at the plate. With a few holes filled in, Auburn has a college ball team that is just about as swift an aggregation as one cares to see, and all Montgomery will watch their future with interest, after their plucky, uphill fight yesterday.

It was the first time that Jack Lee has pitched a regular game in Montgomery this summer, and even if the college boys were somewhat weak with the stick he undoubtedly pitched in great form. Steady as a clock, not a base on balls, wild pitch or hitting a batter, he mowed the Auburn batters down with the greatest regularity. The only hit made off him during the five innings that he was in the box was by Blanton in the third inning. It was a battle between he and Weems—who is a college pitcher very much out of the ordinary—only four hits having been made off Weems up to the fifth inning while the college boy had struck out three Pretzels and not given a base on balls. Not a run had been scored by either side up to then and had Weems been able to pitch the game out the result would have been vastly different.

In the last of the fifth May went in the box for Auburn, and it was all off. May has a drop ball that would be vicious and effective if he could control it, but yesterday he was frightfully wild. In the first inning that he pitched he hit the first man up, gave three bases on balls, filled the bags twice and forced in a couple of runs. This put the team behind him up in the air and the fast, steady game that the college boys had played till then was a thing of the past.

Roy Hale equalled the performance of Lee, the only hit made off him being made by Steel, the first man up in the first inning—the sixth—that Hale pitched, while he had splendid control, not giving a base on balls and striking out five Auburn batters.

Frank Shannon and Barry did the hitting for the Pretzels with a couple each, though the feature of the work of the locals that appealed most to the fans was the spirited base running. Barry stole three bases and put in a couple of the runs, Gardner stealing two bases and scoring two runs, Lee, Brouthers and O'Brien each getting a stolen base.

Henry Lynch played his first game for Montgomery and made a favorable impression, his wild throw not being costly.

Skinner led off with a line hit down towards first base, which Mullaney handled easily. Hall and Burgess striking out in rotation, Jack Lee using a sample of the delivery that made him famous last summer.

Molesworth popped up an infield fly that Skinner got under, Shannon hit safe, but Lynch struck out and Brouthers was out on a hit to Hall.

Millerick went to first in Mullaney's place in the second, O'Brien going behind the bat. Randall was out on a foul fly that O'Brien got, Lurton was out on a hit to Lee and Wright was out on a hit to Millerick.

Gardner hit a foul fly back of first base which Steel managed to get after a hard run and brilliant catch. Barry was out on a hit to Burgess and O'Brien on a hit to Hall.

Weems and Steel struck out in the third, Blanton hitting safe, but being thrown out at second, this being the first hit made off Lee.

Millerick was out on a fly to Steel, Lee struck out, Molesworth hit safe past first base, Shannon hit safe and Molesworth went to third but Shannon was forced out on Lynch's hit to Hall.

Auburn vs. Wetumpka.

In a game characterized by loose playing Auburn piled up 22 runs on the team from the Fifth District Agricultural School at Wetumpka. As the summary will show the errors on both sides were numerous. The game however, was of great benefit to the team as it served to bring out points which the coach could instruct the men in regard to. The team on the whole showed that with hard practice they would by the time they went up against any of their college rivals, be able to put up a very good article of ball. Weems, May and Drake all did well in the box.

One thing already noticeable about the team is the fact that they play together. The one man game is not allowed on the field and all nine men work together to win the game and not to display their individual ability. Following is the summary of the game:

BASKET BALL

Auburn vs. Howard.

The basket ball team of 1905 played its first game with Howard College on the night of March 17th. A fairly good crowd was in attendance and the game was a most interesting one. Though the Howard team got the lead at once and maintained it during the entire game, yet the teams were very evenly matched and the Howard boys had to fight for every point made.

Howard started off with a rush and scored sixteen points in the first half to Auburn's three. In the second half Howard scored seven points to Auburn's five, thus showing that Auburn's improved as they become more familiar with the floor. Auburn's goals were scored by Hall, Wilkinson and Alsobrook.

Auburn line up was as follows:

Forward—Boyd.

Forward—Hall.

Center—Wilkinson, Alsobrook.

Guard—Lacey.

Guard—Streit.

Referee—Frank Jones.

Auburn vs. Birmingham Y. M. C. A.

On the night following the Howard game Auburn went up against the strong Birmingham Y. M. C. A. and while they did not come forth victors, they could justly feel proud. For with but two weeks practice behind them they had played a team which had been practicing constantly for over a month the very hardest kind of a game.

Our team went into the game with the characteristic Auburn do or die spirit and gave the Y. M. C. A. all they were looking for during the entire twenty-five minutes of play.

Auburn got the lead early in the game and maintained it until the last five minutes of play. Lack of practice at throwing goals was the cause of our downfall. The final score was: Y. M. C. A., —; Auburn, —.

Auburn's line-up was as follows:

Forward—Boyd.

Forward—Hall.

Center—Wilkinson.

Guard—Lacey.

Guard—Streit.

Referee—Eugene Jones.

Class Championship Game.

Seniors vs. Sophomores.

The championship game was played Saturday night between the Senior and Sophomores. Although the game was not as fast as it might have been the game was on the whole a most interesting one. The Seniors were crippled by the loss of Boyd, a forward. Judging from the number of Varsity men the Sophomores had, it would seem that they had things all their way, but in the second half the Seniors prevented any scoring on the part of the Sophs. and tallied eight points themselves.

During the first half the Sophs. scored 16 points, the Seniors 5. During the second half the Seniors scored 8 points, while the Sophs. failed to score.

The score by detail was as follows:

Kappa Sigma Fraternity Beautifully Entertained.

The members of the Kappa Sigma fraternity of the A. P. I. at Auburn, came to Opelika Saturday afternoon for the purpose of having a group picture taken for the "Glomerata."

After this duty, combined with its jolly pleasures were over the young men were beautifully entertained by Mrs. S. S. Black from 3:30 to 6:30 p. m. in compliment to her son, Mr. Jas. R. Black, who is a valued member of this fraternity.

Mrs. Black had invited about twenty young ladies to meet them, who were assembled and in a manner beautiful these lovely young ladies greeted and made happy the afternoon for the visiting gentlemen. The hostess was charmingly assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Miss Erin, and Mrs. George Oliver Berry, of Columbus, Ga.

Pretty souvenirs of the occasion were the little booklets containing questions for the contest game; each question was to be answered with words beginning with "pen." The cover of these booklets were hand painted with a spray of cherries and foliage and the initials K. S. F. thus the design was painted in the colors of the fraternity—red, green and white.

Miss Gertrude Chase, of Columbus, with bright wit successfully answered more questions and won the ladies' prize, a pretty box of stationery. Prof. Rutland won the gentleman's prize, a souvenir of Opelika.

The decoration of the home and the refreshments carried out the colors of the fraternity.

Those present to enjoy this afternoon of pleasure were:

Misses Gertrude Chase, of Columbus; Marion and Jennie Dickinson, Bethany Hicks, Artie Smith, Carmen Longshore, Rena Thomason, Ione and Mary Charles Barnes, Susie Dowd, Mary Cowan, Alice Ingram, Ione and Derrelle Barnes, Marie and Connel Jernigan, Ruth Wear, Ethel Ross, Maude Palmer, Fleta Abbott and Mary Frazer; Messrs. What's the matter with Auburn?

What's the matter with Alabama?

We're both O. K.

After the exciting game of last Saturday it took two days for the dust to settle. Never in the history of baseball was such a demonstration of college loyalty shown. Not that the rooting at the other games wasn't the best in years, but on the third day the climax was reached. Every boy accompanied by a noise maker of some variety was out pulling for Mike Donahue's tigers.

While things pleasant to think of are under discussion, it is entirely appropriate that we say something of the Alabama team and the few loyal supporters that accompanied them. Never before have we had the pleasure to have with us such a lot of jolly good fellows. While they may have lost two games yet the friends they gained would outnumber the games, fifty to one. So here's to old Alabama, her team and her supporters.

The last issue of the Crimson and White contains several articles that it does us much good to read and think over. We only wish we had gotten out an issue first so that we could have said pleasant things first. Now since they have been said we can only say that we are sure that Auburn and Tuscaloosa have entered into an era of good feeling and fellowship, as properly becomes sister colleges of this great state of ours. Petty strifes, which sad to say have marred our athletic relations of the past are relegated to the back shelf and instead we have a clean friendly rivalry which will continue as long as a wearer of the Crimson and White shouts his varsity yell in answer to the Orange and Blue's Rak-e-te-yak.

This year has been a banner one with Auburn. Outside of the fact that the attendance, etc., is larger than usual, we have done things in the athletics line that make us proud that we are wearers of the Orange and Blue.

We did great stunts in the foot-ball line. From appearances we will duplicate it in baseball. We are champions of the state in both departments of sport. Besides our athletic triumphs there are others that are more becoming to the student proper. As we go to press the glad news comes that for the third consecutive time a representative of Auburn has won the Cox medal for oratory. Mr. Walter R. Samford '05 who represented Auburn, has won many honors by his oratory, but when he wrestled from the other competitors the medal, thereby adding to the lustre of Auburn's name we feel as if we ought to pat him on the back and say "well done thou brilliant son of Auburn."

Alabama has a team that she should, and if we may judge by what we hear is proud of. Never were two teams so evenly matched and never did two teams battle so eagerly for their colleges. Alabama's pluck on the diamond is too well known to comment upon and it was only by some tall hustling that Auburn was enabled to bear off the laurels.

SOMETHING NEW.

On Saturday night after the game, a jolly party celebrated the victory in an entirely original manner. After giving the Alabama team a good send off they visited the various professors and exacted a speech from each. After visiting the members of the faculty, they finally cornered Coach Donahue, who made a most eloquent speech. The party finally dispersed when Colonel Patrick wanted to make an individual speech to each young lady.

Among the young ladies in the party were, Misses Hollifield, Anderson, Dowdell, Harvey, Shoaff of Montgomery, Paterson of Montgomery, Armstrong of Red Bank, N. J.

EDUCATION THE BEST GIFT.

Under the above caption The Chattanooga Weekly Press publishes the following able editorial:

"After a man passes forty, his chief concern, if he be a parent, is for his children. For them he plans and toils and labors. His ambition is for them rather than for himself.

"And yet, many parents forget or seem to overlook the fact, that the best possible gift which they can bestow upon their children is a good education.

"In nine cases out of ten every dollar left to the young man by his parents is a hindrance rather than a help, a curse rather than a blessing.

"Leave your boy with a sound education by all means. See that he is properly trained mentally, morally and physically, and then turn him loose to 'paddle his own canoe. If he cannot succeed, after being thus equipped, he does not deserve success.

"Let him 'hoe his own row,' but see that he is prepared to hold his own with all competitors, 'by having a sound and well trained mind in a sound and well trained body.

"Riches take wings. Inherited money is an exceedingly doubtful good. As a general rule it enervates, corrupts, and finally downs its possessor.

"Ignorance is a terrible handicap. Combined with poverty it is indeed 'the curse of God.'

"Wealth without knowledge is worthless. In this age, more than any age which the world has ever seen, knowledge is truly 'the wing wherewith we fly to heaven.'

"A hundred dollars spent for the higher education of the boy while he is in his teens, is worth far more to him than ten thousand dollars given to him as an inheritance after he reaches his majority.

"The best schools and colleges are now accessible at moderate cost. During the coming summer the location and advantages of many of these will be set forth in the advertising columns of the press, and we commend all such to the careful consideration of those parents whose children are in need of the educational advantages which they afford.

"Every boy and girl is entitled to a fair start and a fair chance in the race of life, and the parents who suffer their sons and daughters to grow up in ignorance, commit a great and irreparable crime, both against the State and against the victims of such ignorance for whose existence they are responsible."
